

ECCO Call for Participants to the 3rd Y-ECCO Mentorship Forum 2025

The new deadline for submission is December 20, 2024

Context and aim of the project

It is a great pleasure for the Y-ECCO Committee to invite you to the third edition of the Y-ECCO Mentorship Forum, taking place on June 27 – 28, 2025 in Vienna!

It is time to further strengthen the bonds between young doctors in the IBD field and help them in their professional and personal development. Within a one and half day forum Key Opinion Leaders (KOL) will provide guidance and support to young doctors (or still in training) who wish to enhance their career in IBD.

This stand-alone event is aimed at transferring knowledge from experienced professionals to juniors, as well as increasing the Y-ECCO Members appreciation of, and orientation within, the IBD field. The Y-ECCO Mentorship Forum is about questioning, challenging, guiding and encouraging young doctors to develop skills and take steps to become the professional they want to be. In addition, this forum should enable the participants to network with their peers and senior KOLs for potential future scientific collaboration.

The forum consists of three core pillars:

- A networking event combined with a Satellite Symposium dinner in the evening of Friday June 27, 2025
- The morning of Saturday June 28, 2025 will provide the opportunity to talk to individual experts about career development
- A group work session in the afternoon will focus on Clinical Trials
